Wednesday's Long Positions in the Stock Market.

Wednesday, November 4th. - Charts and Analysis are BELOW the Quick Summary.

- ▶ Remain in cash. The Super Accelerators for the SPY, NASDAQ 100, and the Russell 2000 all went to Sell Signals at the close of October 28th. We issued Sell Signals for the SPY, NASDAQ 100, and the Russell 2000 on Thursday, October 29th. Before that, on Friday October 23rd, Institutional Investors went into Distribution and remained there ... almost a week prior to our sell signal.
- ▶ The Institutional Index of Core Holdings closed slightly lower while slightly above its support line. The support line test is NOT done yet, and as the test is occurring, the short term bias is to the downside. Institutional Investors are waiting for Friday's unemployment report ... if positive, the report could be a game changer.
- ▶ Underlying Market Conditions: We had 6 negative readings, 0 lesser negative readings, 1 Neutral reading, 1 Positive readings, and 1 Lesser Positive reading. This is a quick overview

Sections and Charts in the Standard and Advanced Monday through Friday Pages

Standard "Daily Update & Charts"

 Updated Every Day

 First is a Summary, which contains a "quick overview" for the day, current recommendations for Long Positions, and a "Matrix of Underlying Market Conditions". Next are the following Sections:

Special Chart(s) Today ...

Only on an "as needed" basis, we use this Section to post any Special Daily Charts that give clarity or understanding about what is going on.

Section 1. - Daily Index Chart(s)

*The daily tracking of the Institutional Index of "core holdings" is found in this Section. (Other index charts may also be posted from time to time.)

Section 2. -The Super Accelerator Market Trend Model:

*The Super Accelerator Model is posted in this Standard Section when there is a "market UP signal" on the SPY, NASDAQ 100, or the Russell 2000. After a Sell Signal is issued, the S.A. Charts are then moved to the Advanced Website.

Section 3 - Short Term Intra-day Indicators for Day Traders.

*These charts show "short term" market swings that are useful to swing traders and day traders.

Section 4. - The Underlying Stock Market Conditions:

*The "9 corresponding charts" to the Underlying Market Fundamentals Matrix found in the Standard Summary section. (The Matrix gives you a quick "birds eye view" of market conditions and how they are changing daily.)

Section 5. - Longer Term Stock Market Charts ...

*This Section looks at chart models that map when the market shifts from a Bull Market to a Bear Market and back again. These charts are updated every Monday morning.

Advanced "Daily Update & Charts"

 Updated Every Day

 First is a Summary, which contains a "quick overview" for the day and our current recommendations for Shorting the Market. Next are the following Sections:

Special Chart(s) Today ...

Only on an "as needed" basis, we use this Section to post any Special Daily Charts that give clarity or understanding about what is going on.

Section 1. - Daily Index Chart(s)

*The daily tracking of the Institutional Index of "core holdings" is found in this Section along with the NASDAQ 100, and the Banking Index.

Section 2. -The Super Accelerator Market Trend Model:

*The Super Accelerator Model is posted in this Advanced Section when there is a "market SELL or Down condition" on the SPY, NASDAQ 100, or Russell 2000. At this time, the sensibility of shorting is explored and determined. (The S.A. Charts move back to the Standard site when there is a new Long-Buy signal.)

Section 3. - The U.S. Dollar, 10 and 30 Year Bond Yields.

*Daily chart updates on the movement and trending of the U.S. Dollar, 10 Year Bond Yields, and 30 Year Bond Yields.

Section 4. - The Shanghai Indexes

*Daily chart updates on China's Shanghai Composite, the Shanghai 180 Index, and a 10 year weekly chart of the Shanghai Composite

Section 5. - Longer Term Stock Market Charts ...

*This Section looks at chart models that map when the market shifts from a Bull Market to a Bear Market and back again. These charts are updated every Monday morning.
